Berlin, Aug. 18.—French troops clashed with the inhabitants of Katowitz, an important mining town of upper Silesia today. Eleven persons were killed and 26 wounded. Polish troops attempted to break up a mass meeting at Rybnik, about 25 miles south of Katowitz and one person was killed and four wounded.

Workers in all the towns in upper Silesia struck at noon today as a protest against the war between Russia and Poland.

Members of trade unions were held up everywhere in the interest of neutrality and demands were made for the creation of a commission to control the transportation of troops.

One Frenchman killed a detachment of French cavalry, killing one trooper. Thereupon the French opened fire with machine guns and grenades, killing 9 and wounding 26. M. Milewski, a lawyer and local Polish leader, threw a grenade from his window and was wounded from his house and killed.

The security police, two of whose comrades were killed by the French fire, have refused to continue duty. After the disturbance the French troops were withdrawn from the town.

Story of Man Held at

on Camp Grant Murder

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

Madison, Aug. 18.—An important development in the search for the slayer of Mrs. LeRoy Moss, at Camp Grant, is the arrest of Private Lester Van Tassel here yesterday. He is the son of Irvin Van Tassel, 1908 Atwood avenue, this city.

In the police jail this morning Van Tassel declared he and a companion were not guilty. Van Tassel, but who went by the name Peters, were serving in the guard house.

"Had it in for him,"

"Peters had it in for Captain Moss." Van Tassel admitted, "but I don't know whether he did Peters in or not. I don't know what Peters had done. He didn't tell me."

"Peters said he'd get that captain if he could," Van Tassel continued, "but I don't know whether he did Peters in or not. I don't know what Peters had done. He didn't tell me."

"About 7 o'clock that night I was walking home and I didn't see him again until 7 the next day. I was waiting for a train at a little station near the camp. When I asked him where he had been he told me to shut up. He acted sort of nervous, but he didn't tell me anything. He had no gun with him when he left me, but he had an old .45."

Camp Grant, Aug. 18.—Camp Grant authorities expressed no confidence that the arrest of Private Lester Van Tassel at Madison, would clear up the mysterious shooting of Mrs. Maude Lucile Moss, wife of Captain LeRoy H. Moss at Camp Grant.

Van Tassel, said to be one of 5 military prisoners who broke arrest a few hours before the shooting, was at first sought but further investigation, convinced authorities that neither Van Tassel nor his "pal" George Welch arrested on June 21 was involved.

A military guard will be sent to Madison today to bring Van Tassel to court to face court martial charges of breaking arrest and desertion, authorities said.

Redsburg, Aug. 18.—Gov. E. L. Philipp charged that Rep. E. The governor estimated Wilcox's itemographs alone cost $10,000.

"Where does this money come from?" asked the avowedly lavish expenditures, the governor. "Show us the books."

The governor was addressing a farmers' audience on the issues of the campaign. He showed that John J. Philip, who is elected to the 10th district, bolted the state ticket in 1914; he said that Mr. Hull and Mr. Dithmar were well known to the public and then praised Colonel Gilbert E. New York, Aug. 18.—James Shewlin, federal prohibition enforcement agent, today started an investigation to ascertain whether there was really a "tickle" in the little socially bottles just sold last night at the opening performance of "Tickle Me" at a local theater.

While singing an encore to one number entitled "We've got something," the chorus girls passed down the aisles carrying a bottle of beer, which was labeled whiskey. Overcoming a wholesome timidity, a few in the audience opened their souvenirs, sniffed, tasted, smacked their lips and gave exclamations and applause that left no doubt as to their opinion of the refreshment.

Antwerp, Aug. 18.—America is far in the lead in the standings of the nations in the Olympic games. The United States is the nearest competitor, and 57½ in its nearest competitor, and 57½ in the lead of England.

Leo Alwood, manager of the Florida Lumber company, stated this morning that he had become suspicious of Shadwell recently, having seen him in the office, having nothing to do with him. He said nothing of it as he contemplated discharging Shadwell.

Investigation by the police showed that Shadwell is 20 years old and came here from Rock County, Mo.

SHADWELL HAS RECORD

It was found this afternoon that Shadwell is traveling under an alias and has been formerly, police say. His room-mate gave the police a discharge, which he says belongs to Shadwell. The discharge is honorable one, for a year and is signed by Edward Kilander. His room-mate also said that he had served some time in prison.

Berlin, Aug. 18.—A telephone message from Posen tonight stated the Poles had succeeded in forcing the Russians back from the Vista for a distance of 15 kilometers. A Bolshevik attempt to cross the Vista north of Ivanograd was reportedly frustrated and the Poles were said to have resumed counter operations southeast of Warsaw.

The Poles have captured Novo Minsk a short distance east of Warsaw, according to a dispatch from the Polish capital today. The battle of Warsaw appears to be favorable to the Poles, the dispatch says.

Money Bag Left Behind Identified—Chicago Police Officials

On Lookout

Theft of $1,000 from the safe of the Fifield Lumber company, West Milwaukee street, was made early this morning.

It is believed that the thief is known, although no arrest has been made.

Edward Shadwell, porter, who has been sweeping out the office nights, is missing. He is suspected of having stolen Tuesday night, alone or with a companion, and broken open the safe, taking $1,000 in currency. Many Liberty bonds and checks were left untouched. A money bag left behind by him in his flight has been identified.

DISCOVERED THIS MORNING

The robbery was discovered on opening the office for business this morning. The police were immediately notified, who in turn had been warned by one of Shadwell's roommates of Shadwell's recent absence.

Shadwell remained at 121 South Shadwell street. According to one of the roomers, he returned to his room about 5:30 this morning displaying a roll of bills and telling them that he was going away to "have a good time." It is thought that he bounded out of the door.

Police officers were immediately notified

PRIVATE LIVES OF CANDIDATES

Both Cox and Harding Subjects of Underground Gossip

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Gazette Correspondent

(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate).

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—Most people have an idea that as gossipy women are the worst offenders but anyone who spends several days in Ohio studies the presidential campaign will be convinced that the male of the species is more deadly than the female.

For campaign whispers and lies have begun their insidious journey to the minds of the voters outside of Ohio. The private lives of Senator Harding and Governor Cox have been unusually canvassed and the traits of character which played so prominent a part in the undercurrents of the 1916 campaign have been started afresh with respect to both presidential candidates.

Personal information . . .

The truth is that people who live and die for years in the same town or cities with the respective candidates and whose minds are colored by grievances or prejudices and sometimes by imaginative powers are confined to politics alone have given free rein to their tongues. And what a power those who claim to have known the one candidate or the other "for years" is apt to say is frequently repeated as absolute truth.

It is perhaps the most distasteful phase of the presidential campaign and were it not for the fact that it is playing and doing so prominently in the word of mouth propaganda of the campaign it could be ignored. Many people who would otherwise judge the candidates on what they say in print or what they say about them in newspaper may be swayed in their judgment by the political tales and not one of them, either with respect to Senator Harding or Governor Cox, has anything more to do with the qualifications of these men to be president of the United States than the private lives of the two men will do at the election next November.

Books—Hundred Years.

It is not necessary to describe even the nature of these stories for let it suffice to say that everything that has ever been charged against persons in public life is being said about Senator Harding and Cox. According to the domestic relations of each of the candidates, the tale mongers have even gone back a generation or two and in one instance nearly a hundred years to resurrect skeletons of moral laxity.

Anyone told in both sides cannot but be impressed with the fact that the circumstances in each case afford absolutely no index to character. The trouble is that party workers have an idea this is the thing that most voters and public opinion subject of party workers, the writer has seen enough and heard enough to become convinced that the democrats and republicans in the wards and precincts where this propaganda is being peddled are equally culpable.

Some politicians in Ohio haven't given a very good example of political conduct in the last thirty years. If the newspapermen who are attached for the time being with Senator Harding or those who are with Governor Cox were to confess all the stories that prejudiced reputations of both men have ended in a "plan" it is thought it would be as shocking as it is probably incredible to those who do not understand the extremes to which some politicians will go to accomplish their purpose.

STATE'S 1920 CROP OF HONEY EXPECTED TO BEAT LAST YEAR'S

Madison—In spite of the heavy losses of colonies during the winter and spring, the Wisconsin crop of honey in 1920 will exceed the 1919 crop by 300,000 pounds, states Joseph A. Becker of the Wisconsin Cooperative Crop Reporting service in its August report.

Production for 1920 is estimated at 5,150,000 pounds, compared to 4,834,000 pounds during 1919. The average yield of surplus honey per colony to Aug. 1 is reported at 3.8 pounds. As yet, however, the honey has not been fully produced after Aug. 1, the total expected yield for the season will entail 75 pounds per colony, compared to 54 in 1919, 22 in 1918 and a five-year average of 53 pounds.

Prices asked for honey by producers are low in comparison with the present price of sugar. Prices asked for comb honey average 37.9 cents retail and 33.8 cents wholesale; for extracted, 30.1 cents retail and 26.5 cents wholesale.

CENTURY BATTLE FOR SUFFRAGE ENDS

Miss Anthony Arrested.

Meanwhile Miss Anthony made the fight of the right of women to cast the ballot by going to the police station. She was arrested and convicted, and though she refused to pay her fine, was never jailed. She became, however, the forerunner of the "militants" who adopted the forceful tactics of the latter days of the campaign.

Since after state gradually enfranchised its women citizens, beginning with Wyoming in 1869, by 1915 sixteen states had given women the right to vote, and fourteen states had presidential suffrage bills ready to introduce into the amendment.

Militants in the fight for suffrage in America made its appearance with the formation of the National Woman's Party in 1913. On the eve of President Wilson's inauguration, 8,000 women led by Alice Paul, chairman of the party, attempted to march from the Capitol to the White House. They were harassed by a hostile crowd which overran an unyielding police and the capital of the United States in its first experiment with mass riots.

Dicketed White House.

Continuing their demonstrations over a period of seven years members of the women's party picketed the White House with banners in their hands and seemed bent on a march which grew out of their protest against the blockade of the executive mansion.

SALVATION ARMY HAS FAR-REACHING REORGANIZATION

By Associated Press.

New York.—A far-reaching reorganization of the Salvation Army is designed to put it in a position the center to meet the enlarged demands that are everywhere being made upon it since the war has just been announced by the executive officials of the body here.

The new era upon which the Salvationists are entering involves not only a complete redistribution of the entire country for the Army's administrative purposes.

Remaining as head of all the Salvation Army forces in the United States is Commander Evangeline Booth, who has reinforced her years of experience commanding all the Army's forces in the United States and Hawaii, but with enlarged authority delegated to her in recognition of her successful direction of the wartime efforts of the organization both at home and abroad.

For administrative purposes the country has been divided into three territories, an Eastern, Central and Western, with headquarters respectively in New York, Chicago and San Francisco. Miss Ruth Stephens left Monday afternoon for a visit with the association in Nebraska. She was accompanied by her aunt.

CLEAN MILK.

Milk may not be impure so far as carrying germs of disease is concerned, but may be unclean. It is amazing what some of the tests will show when the product is strained through cotton.
That ought to be the necessary test of all milk.
It is to be hoped that later there will be the necessary city legislation to provide these necessary tests as to purity. If these cleanliness tests are made and the results, with the name of the milk-seller put over each, there will be a clearing up in a hurry.

Writing to the Gazette, Dr. G. W. Henrich of the state board of health, says that this sediment test for milk properly applied "would do more to clean up the milk supply of Janesville than any other one thing that could be undertaken."

We have no test for milk; no protection other than is afforded from time to time of examinations by the state dairy and food department, of tubercular herds, or for herd owners seeking examinations for tuberculin tests as a protective measure.

We know nothing of the milk purity by official test here. It may be produced under the most rigid of sanitary conditions in stable management and in milking processes in 99 cases, and one bad stable will make the whole volume of milk handled equal only to the worst. Any pasteurizing process attendant will tell you of the slime and dirt that is obtained from that method of treating milk. In Galesville, Wis., a serious epidemic of septic sore throat came through impure milk and the state had a hard fight to clear it up. It will take little money and not a great amount of time to assure the public by test that it is getting the kind of milk the high price should warrant.

A SAD DAY FOR JOSEPHUS.

North Carolina made Tuesday a time of weeping for the late Honorable Josephus Daniels, the peaceful secretary of the navy. In North Carolina, Wilson is Allah, and Josephus is his prophet.
After all the solid democratic states of the south had defected the ratification of the suffrage amendment, it was hoped that the Old North State would come across for Josephus and vote for the women. But they wouldn't hearken.
They were cool enough to allow as how the effort on the part of Mr. Cox, Mr. Wilson and Skipper Daniels, in force action, was an impertinence.
North Carolina put off voting until the regular session some months hence. The fact is that 29 states ratifying suffrage have been republican and six only democratic. That ought to be convincing proof to the women that they have no hope in the democratic councils.

GETTING HISTORY SQUARED UP.

Governor Cox seems to be almost as well versed in history as Henry Ford. But Mr. Ford is not running for the presidency. "Lincoln," says Mr.
Cox, "fought a war over the purely moral issue of slavery." Mr. Cox needs a short course in a public library. Had slavery been the issue it would never have caused a war. It was when the slave states attempted to destroy the union that war began, and for the preservation of these United States intact, the contest was fought. We have had one war based on moral grounds—the Spanish-American—and that was precipitated by an overt act—the sinking of the Maine. The war with Germany was a war of self-preservation.
We take a great deal of the moral side—the side in reality was a deeply grounded fear that if Germany won in Europe, she would be thundering next at our gates. Far be it from a contest to make the world safe for democracy—it was to make the world safe for the American people.

OUR NEIGHBOR, SHIRER.

Our neighbor, Shirer, took the proper stand when the telephone company would have ruined many of the beautiful trees of the village, by cutting away limbs. They kept the telephone away until the company accommodated itself to the situation and strung the wires so as not to injure the trees. Trees are worth more even than telephone services when either has to be sacrificed.
We are ruthless in destroying our tree beauty when a little care would save them.

All that Mr. Blaine needs is the presence of Mr. Townley of North Dakota, the nonpartisan league boss who is restrained somewhat by his conviction on charges of disloyalty and numerous counts of obstruction of the government war work. However, in some of the most inner circles of the Blaine support this would be a commanda-tion rather than a weakness.

Mr. Leacock has taken the war into the camp of Thompson and spent a profitable and pleasing day at La Crosse. Senator Leacock had an apron pocket full of nails to use on the Thompson lines about the railroads and the Esch-Cummins bill.

Ladies and Gentlemen, the next thing on the program at this reunion of the men who fought overseas will be Governor Cox in a select reading of the Pro-German editorials from the Dayton Daily News, owned by himself.

One is struck by the fact that Franklin Roosevelt is fifth cousin to the late Colonel. From his speeches it could be easily gathered that he is ly that the fear we would have to abandon Ellis Island has been allayed.

Denver's Tuberculosis Problem

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Denver, Colorado, August 18.—A campaign to induce persons having tuberculosis and no funds to stay away from Denver is now being vigorously waged by the health authorities here. Leaflets explaining why such persons are much better off at home are being scattered broadcast throughout the country by the Denver Anti-Tuberculosis Society and physicians in every state are being asked to cooperate in checking the perpetual rush of indigent sufferers for the Queen City.

A few years ago, the United States Public Health Service, which made an investigation here, estimated that at least 400 tuberculous persons without funds come to Denver every year, and that the number is increasing. This is due to the mistaken idea, still widely prevalent in the East, that climate alone will cure tuberculosis, when as a matter of fact climate is an unimportant factor compared to rest, outdoor sleeping and good food.
And of these latter facilities Denver has practically nothing to offer free of charge.

Many health-seekers come here, of course, with the idea of maintaining themselves by doing light work, but to find such work, or work of any kind for a person with active tuberculosis, is practically impossible. The demand is always many times greater than the supply. Hence, the average case proceeds about like this: A lunger arrives with from $6 to 100 dollars in his pocket. He is unable to find work, so he seeks a cheap lodging house and economizes on food in order to make ends meet. His capital lasts as long as possible, then he may manage to eke out a miserable existence for two months or more, at the end of which time he is much worse than when he came, and farther than ever away from work. With his money gone, he is thrown upon the charity of him or Denver, which must either take care of him or send him home.

In addition to these pathetic cases, nearly every train brings one or two persons who are in the last stages of tuberculosis, for whom there is no possible hope of recovery, but who have spent nearly all their money in a frantic last attempt to reach Denver before it is too late. For these unfortunate, about to die in need of immediate hospital care, Denver also has practically no facilities.

There is no state nor municipal sanatorium here. The best that the city has to offer its own tubercular victims is a few beds—thirty-five or so—in the county hospital, used chiefly for the far-advanced cases and the dying. Several private institutions care for patients at rates ranging from $10 to $150 a month, with very few beds in the low figure, and there are also many cheap tuber-culous homes, accommodating patients at which $10 a week, but these latter are without medical care. They usually consist of old-fashioned houses, to which several sleeping porches have been hurriedly attached and crowded with beds.

For the care of persons without funds there are a few very good institutions which doubtless almost hopelessly inadequate. Among these are two free Jewish sanatoriums, with a capacity of 150 beds each, which accept only a small percentage of Gentiles. Patients desiring to enter these must apply from their place of departure, and await notification before coming to Denver. The waiting lists are always long, and it is usually months before an applicant can be admitted.

There is also the Craig Colony, a small institution housed in tents on a level, shady stretch of ground located on the outskirts of the city, and maintained by tag days and other forms of public subscription. This colony, established by an early Denver lunger named Craig, is for indigent tuber-culous men.

Among the better pay institutions is the Agnes Memorial Home for Tuberculosis victims, built by Senator Phipps to the memory of his mother, where patients are cared for, at rates ranging from $13 to $30 a week. This is acknowledged to be one of the finest tubercular sanatoriums in the West, if not in the entire United States. It specializes in training persons with tuberculosis how to take care of themselves, and each patient is discharged at the end of a year upon the supposition that he or she has obtained all the benefit the sanatorium has to offer.

Various small sanatoriums with moderate rates are also maintained by church organizations or denominations. There is the Oaks Home, an Episcopal institution, and the Evangelical Lutheran church supports a house full of tuberculous patients at rates ranging from $5 to $60 a month. The Dutch Reformed church has a very attractive, spotless sanatorium, too, reminding one of the far-famed qualities of Dutch cleaning. Its rule is extremely moderate, being only $8 a week, but it accepts only the afflicted members of its own denomination.

From this brief outline of Denver's tuberculosis facilities, it may be seen that the city is in no position to receive the large number of unfortunate persons with tuberculosis who insist upon coming here. It isn't that Denver is inhospitable. It is just that it is unprepared. A city climate which climate alone could save these sufferers, Denver would welcome them, not only for humanitarian reasons, but because of the debt she owes to the tubercular who have come here with sufficient funds to regain their health and who have helped to make her what she is. Many authorities agree that a cure is facilitated by adding a favorable climate to the essentials already mentioned—good food, rest and proper care—but these should be obtained first. There are many free sanatoriums providing them in the East, so that the Easterner contracting tuberculosis is fleeing his best chance of recovery when he passes up his home facilities and stakes his all on the Colorado sun and altitude.

That the Denver climate has fallen down on its job in eradicating the disease is evidenced by recent statistics gathered by the Anti-Tuberculosis Society, which show that the percentage of cures is much larger in Pittsburgh than it is in Denver.
Indeed, Denver is now facing the disquieting fact that its own native death rate from tuberculosis has increased 20 per cent during the past few years.

"This is not surprising," declared an official of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society, "when you consider the tremendous amount of infection which is continually being spread here. Take our restaurants, for example. Most of the employees working in them—the waiters, kitchen assistants and even some of the chefs—have tuberculosis, while in some of the cheaper cafes extremely bad cases are often found. The men who run the elevators in your hotel doubtless have the disease, or have had it; the chambermaids are probably here for their health, and many of the soda fountain girls are incipient cases. If these people are not careful to take the greatest sanitary precautions and unfortunately some of them are not—they become a menace to the rest of the population."

"There is no registration of tuberculous persons in Denver. The only way we have of discovering them is through our charitable organizations, including the city fire dispensary. As far as possible, this society tries to find and keep track of every case which enters the city in order to see that the patient understands the routine of personal cleanliness and that he receives proper care.
Often this means returning him to his home town on the next east-bound train for admittance into an eastern institution, and still more often the only service the society can render is to employ an undertaker."

The official paused, as a tall, sallow-faced man with thin, stooped shoulders entered the office and sank weakly into a chair. "There is a hopeless case now," she continued in low tones so that the man could not hear her. "He is from Detroit.
He is deaf and has lost his voice. Both lungs are totally gone, and his throat is filling up. The only way he can communicate with us is by writing.
He has only $60 left, and is paying $12 a week for his board. There is no possible chance that he will get well, and yet he says that his doctor in Detroit advised him to come out here. This is the sort of thing we have to deal with every day at Lake Geneva today."

TEN YEARS AGO

August 18, 1910.—Government agents of the U. S. Engineer's office at Rock Island, Ill., were in the city today inspecting the river and the manufacturing plants here. They are inspecting all the cities north of Sterling, Ill., and there is talk of deepening the river for navigation from there up.

JUST FOLKS

BY EDGAR A. GUEST

THE MAKIN' OF FRIENDS.

If nobody smiles, and nobody cheered and nobody helped us along,

If each ev'ry minute looked after himself and the good things all went to the strong,

If nobody cared just a little for you, and nobody thought about me,

And we stood all alone to the battle of life,

What a dreary old world it would be!

If there weren't such a thing as a flag in the sky as a symbol of comradeship here,

If we lived as the animals live in the woods, with nothing held sacred or dear,

And selfishness ruled the earth to the beth,

And never a brother had we,

And never we gave to another in need, what a dreary old world it would be!

Oh, if we were rich as the richest that lives, and strong as the strongest that lives,

Yet ne'er a smile or a delight and the charm of the life which the other man gives,

If kindness were never a part of ourselves, though we owned all the land we could see,

And friendship meant nothing at all to us, here, what a dreary old world it would be!

Life is sweet just because of the friends we have made and the things which in common we share.

We want to live on not because of ourselves, but because of the people who care,

It's giving and doing for somebody else—on that all our splendor depends,

And the joy of this world, when you've summed it all up, is found in the making of friends.

TEACHERS RIGHTS AND CHILDREN'S LEFTS

Some mentally retarded children in Lingfield Colony Special Schools in Lingfield Colony Special Schools for crippled children were not able to learn the alphabet and numbers and were not able to learn to read according to the Binet-Simon tests.

They could not be taught to read or write, could not recognize letters by sound and had no conception of number value. Mr. Lewis, headmaster of the school, tried to use the left hand in blackboard drawing, at first from the shoulder and later from the elbow and wrists, all the movements being slow and clumsy.

At first the left-handed movements were dominant and the right subordinate, but gradually the right hands acquired the ability to move with greater speed and steadiness, the speech defects disappeared and the children's response to the Binet-Simon tests steadily improved, so that they could soon write copy and dictation.

When one has appendicitis it is always necessary to have an operation done penitively occur from fruit seeds such as grapes? What causes one to have appendicitis?

ANSWER.—Operation may not be necessary in every case, but it is necessary in every case. The patient should have an operation to remove the appendix.

Appendicitis is never caused by seeds. Self-consciousness, vanity and shame are common causes of blushing.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 18, 1920.

This should be an unusually lucky day for all lines of business.
Financial aspect as exceedingly favorable for whatever has to do with followers.

Political work is held to be especially well directed during this position of the stars, which gives women as well as men patience and the will to watch policies and opinions.

It was prophesied long ago that the new era old leaders would be superseded by younger ones and they who foretell the results of the national election declare that "he who sees the world as changed" will win.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

ALMOST READY TO SAIL Monday, August 22nd, waiting about Europe, although for divers reasons I am not to do several weeks'outing ahead, and deposit them with Mr. Read, dear creature that he is. I declare I feel quite sad at the thought of leaving him, and the newspaper, home bright, I have learned so much from my chief, and in such short time.

However, as he points out to me, I shall know much more when I return, and I shall be much more valuable to the paper through this new experience of mine. This thought cheers me.

I like the darling that he is. Mr.
Read presented me with a check for the drawings that I turned in to him yesterday, and that check was a substantial one, and made me feel very confident about getting him all that I want.

There is something wonderful as the feel of one's own money, made by one's own very own self! I can hardly bear to think of cashing some of these, my first checks. Somehow or other, it seems like saving. However, the main demand that one does not like such sentimental ideas, and keep abreast with progress.

Mother and I had an argument this morning about that adorable scarlet evening dress of mine. She was all for getting rid of it, and the great girl and I stood pat for its going along, or Lindsey remaining behind with it. That's firmness for you, eh?

Well, Lindsey won out, and the dress went in. Why goodness, I used to take down some of those

Heart and Home Problems

By ELIZABETH H. THOMPSON
Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am almost most 19 and am the oldest of seven children. I do often work and my hours are short, so I make my own clothes everyday. In that way I save clothes expenses. I also make things for my little sisters now and then. I have the kindest parents in the world but they just cannot understand my craving for pretty things. They are so happy and content if only we all keep well and have plenty to eat and they think I ought to be. Know they are so dreadful I should hate to have them know how dissatisfied I am.

Because rent is so high we can only afford a small cottage and the one living room is always crowded up. We have no dining room and the furniture is all poor and ugly.
Mother lets the children be up until my old hour and so it is crowded even without company.

I have a boy friend who has never met my parents. I should like them to meet, but how can I invite him?
Father sits around all evening in his shop, smoking and talking and smokes a horrid pipe. Mother never takes time to dress up and the children are a sight after playing all day.

My friend is very neat and I do not want him to get a poor impression. I have been thinking him down low instead of having him come. Mother does not like that. Do you think it wrong? We live quite a way from town so it does not seem necessary for him to come so far when it is broad daylight. Of course he brings me home, but this is too late then to have him go back.

We are good friends and too young to think of marrying, but I know he wants to meet my parents time he told me he expected to have $4,000 saved by the time he is 24, and asked me if I thought we would care for each other then as we do now. I am afraid that he begins to like her. He is so very nice and thoughtful, but he has never once said he loved me, but only that I am the best little pal in the world.
Would it be foolish to be engaged four years if he should want me to?

The young man cares for you and will be eager to care simply because you family makes it impossible for you to entertain company as you would like to do. By all means let him come to the house and meet your parents. He will not feel the confusion as much as you do. The sides will all look for the lovable qualities in your parents and will not see your mother's plain dress and your father's shirt sleeves. Their real worth will be felt more than their careless habits. You may be able to bribe the children to do as you want them to.

I do not suppose of a girl's meet in Milwaukee downtown. If they respect to go somewhere from work, that is different, and to go home to meet would be unreasonable.

You must consult your own heart about becoming engaged. You do not seem to be a nice sort of a girl.

RECIPES FOR A DAY
Swiss Steak—Take the desired amount of round steak or any of the cheaper cuts. With an edge of four ounces pound in quantity of flour on each side of the meat; score in a frying pan, using a little salt; then cover with boiling water and let cook slowly for one and one-half hours, using very little water and keeping tightly covered.

Cherry Dumplings—Take a dough of two cups flour, baking powder and fat the size of an egg. This will make three servings. Place in a baking dish and pour over this a mixture and bake 20 minutes, one cup sugar, two cups boiling water, two cups cherries. If any is left it is good eaten cold.

Filled Cookies—One egg, one cup sugar, one-half cup lard or substitute, one-half cup milk or cream, one teaspoon baking powder, three and one-half cups flour, one-half teaspoon salt.

Mix together, roll out and cut with a cookie cutter. Put filling on one with another on top, press the sides down and bake.

Cookies—One cup chopped raisins, one teaspoon flour, one-half cup sugar, one-half cup water. Let cook.
When thick add one-half cup chopped walnut meats.

Now the success in making cookies is to mix cookie dough the right way and set yourself in cool weather; then when you have ice put ice for two or three hours. Then roll out and bake. By doing this you don't need so much flour in your cookies and they are not tough.

BELoit HEARING MANY RUMORS ABOUT SAMSON

They have a rumor down in the Gateway city that the Summons have two men already lined up for the next of the inter-city series. These men, according to the Beloit paper, are Jake Daubert, shortstop of the Toledo Rail Legs, and John Humpries, an American Legion captain.

But they all wrong, all wrong. While Daubert was to join the Samson crew in Illinois last week and had strict stipulations, he failed to show up and went back to the Dyots. All hopes of ever getting him back lost says George Perring, as Humpries, no deal has been closed to him. What he did receive was to the effect that he could not join the local team before the middle of September.

There is truth however to the belief that the Summons are trying to add more men to their staff for the weekend games, which start Saturday.

Whether or not successful can not be known until later in the week.

No grandstand seats will be reserved for Janesville fans at the game at Beloit on Saturday. The first and red seats will be sold out, but the regular seats that come first served.

Women will not be admitted free Saturday at Beloit. That has been the custom down there, but orders went out yesterday that all Janesville-Beloit games, the custom will be waved.

"Mike" Prendergast, Beloit Fairies' pitcher, is still at Beloit. The Possibilities today appear that he may not leave the ranks of the Line City team.

CLEVELAND FANS MOURN AS RAY'S BODY COMES HOME

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 18.—Hundreds of admirers and friends of Ray Chapman, star shortstop of the Cleveland baseball club in the American league, gathered at the Union depot here early today to meet his body.

Chapman's death occurred after he had hit on the head by a pitch ball in Monday's game between New York and Cleveland and sustained a fractured skull.

MAYS USED MOST TRICKERY IN PITCHING

Boston, Mass., Aug. 18.—The explanation by Carl Mays of the New York Americans that the killing of Ray Chapman, shortstop of the Cleveland club, was due to a rough spot on the ball, was met with a twist which caused the subject of a statement to be the subject of a statement again.

Carl Mays, the American league pitcher, resorted to trickery more than Carl Mays in attempting to rough a ball in order to break off which would make it more difficult to hit, the statement said. "Until the new pitching rules came into force, which put a severe penalty on a pitcher roughing the balls, Mays constantly used to drag the ball across the surface of the rubber, so that the surface of the ball was roughed out every year because of this net."

The players of the Boston and Detroit clubs who were at the point yesterday of signing a petition to have Mays banned from the game, today voted to let Manager Chapman, of the Cleveland club as to his opinion of the pitch which killed Chapman, and his views on their proposed action. Several asserted that regardless of any general action they would not go to bat against Mays again.

NO ORDERS TO PUT OUT ROUGHENED BALLS

Chicago, Aug. 18.—American league umpires were instructed some time ago not to throw out rough balls unless absolutely necessary for safety. It was said at league headquarters here today, club owners had complained that dozens of balls were being thrown out daily.

Magnanimous.

WORLD CHAMPION TENNIS PLAYER DOES IN ENGLAND AS ENGLISH DO

William T. Tilden, 2nd, having tea in England.

"When in England do as the English do" is regarded as wise philosophy by William T. Tilden, 2nd, of Philadelphia, who is shown taking tea at one of England's fashionable homes after having won the men's highest honors at the recent tennis tournament at Wimbledon. Tilden now enjoys the distinction of being the world's champion tennis player.

KNABE GRAND PIANOS

The workmanship that makes the KNABE PIANO is not an acquisition of one generation, but a pedigree of skill that has run through more than 80 years, not merely in the masters of this great industry but in the family of employees, where sons have succeeded fathers at the head of some particular branch of the art, and who, in a great part have suggested the improvements when such were possible.

We have the Knabe Pianos in both Upright and Grand.

THE Ampico Reproducing Piano

Leo Ornstein, Godowsky, Rachmaninoff and other famous musicians are giving recitals throughout the country on the Knabe Grand in direct comparison with the AMPICO ELECTRIC REPRODUCING Action. Their own compositions are reproduced so correctly by the Knabe Electric Reproducing Grand that the world marvels at the fact that such an invention were to pleasingly possible.

We are in a position to demonstrate the Ampico Reproducing Action in the Knabe, Marshall Wendall and Haines Bros. Pianos either Electric or Foot-power.

KNABE ELECTRIC REPRODUCING PIANO $3500.00.

Come in and Test the New Edison against your emotions

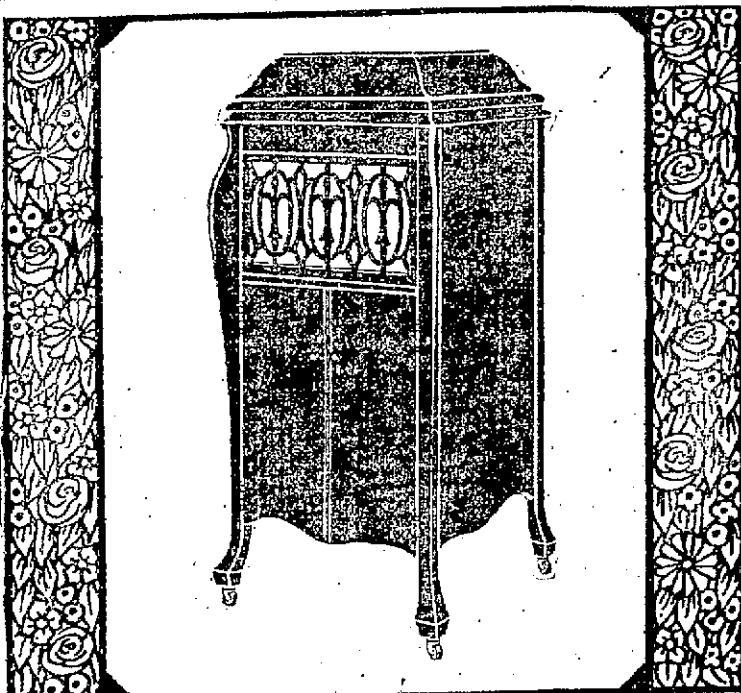

We want to give you Mr. Edison's Realism Test. We want you to decide for yourself whether the New Edison brings you music as you like to hear it.

Think back to the last time you heard a great singer (or instrumentalist). His art made you feel emotions. In those emotions, you found your pleasure.

You want the New Edison to bring you the same emotions. The Realism Test helps you ascertain whether it does. It's a scientific test—fascinating to enjoy. Hear it, and you'll know what a miraculous art the New Edison brings into your home.

Ask about our Budget Plan. It shows you how to organize your dollars on a thrift basis and make easy the purchase of a New Edison.
